PIMCO

PIMCO TRENDS Managed Futures Strategy Fund

a sub-fund of PIMCO Funds: Global Investors Series plc
PIMCO Global Advisors (Ireland) Limited, part of Allianz, manages this fund.

ISIN: IE00BWX5WY35

Share class: Institutional EUR (Hedged) Accumulation

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective The fund aims to generate positive, risk-adjusted returns, seeking to profit from price trends across global liquid futures and other derivative markets, using prudent investment management principles.

Investment Policy The fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in derivatives on interest rates, currencies, mortgage-related securities, credit, equity indices, volatility-related instruments and commodity-related instruments. The investment advisor may take positions in these markets based on the strength and persistence of the price trend measured using quantitative factors, including volatility data and historic price averages. If price trends break through, either above or below, long term averages and ranges, and the price direction stays persistent, a trade will typically be initiated in the same direction as the price trend.

Although the fund normally invests in derivative instruments, the fund may invest directly in the underlying securities, such as fixed income securities (which are loans that pay a fixed or variable rate of interest) and shares.

The fund may invest without limit in emerging markets, which in investment terms are those economies that are not as developed.

The fund's investments in derivative instruments will generally be backed by a portfolio of cash equivalent securities, convertible securities, and investment grade and non-investment grade fixed income securities of varying maturities, issued by governments, their agencies or instrumentalities and corporations. Non-investment grade securities are considered to be more risky, but typically produce a higher level of income.

The assets held by the fund may be denominated in a wide variety of currencies. The investment advisor may use foreign exchange and related derivative instruments to hedge or implement currency positions.

For full investment objectives and policy details please refer to the fund's prospectus.

Distribution Policy This share class does not pay out a distribution. Any investment income generated will be reinvested.

Share Class Currency Hedging This share class seeks to limit the shareholder's currency risk by reducing the effect of exchange rate fluctuations between the share class currency and any non-active currency exposures of the fund.

Dealing Day You can buy and sell shares on most working days in Dublin, exceptions to this are more fully described in the fund holiday calendar available from the Administrator.

Risk and Reward Profile

The indicator above is not a measure of the risk of capital loss, but a measure of the fund's price movement over time.

- It is based on historical data and thus may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The indicated risk category is not guaranteed and may shift over time.
- The indicator is designed to help investors understand the uncertainties both for loss and for growth that may affect their investment. In this context, the lowest category does not mean "risk free".
- The risk indicator is based on the volatility of the fund's performance over the last 5 years. Where 5 years' performance history is not available the data is supplemented by benchmark data or simulated historical series as appropriate.
- The fund does not provide its investors with any guarantee on performance, nor on the monies invested in it.

In addition to the risk captured by the indicator, the overall fund value may be considerably affected by:

Credit and Default Risk A decline in the financial health of an issuer of a fixed income security can lead to an inability or unwillingness to repay a loan or meet a contractual obligation. This could cause the value of its bonds to fall or become worthless. Funds with high exposures to non-investment grade securities have a higher exposure to this risk.

Currency Risk Changes in exchange rates may cause the value of investments to decrease or increase.

Derivatives and Counterparty Risk The use of certain derivatives could result in the fund having a greater or more volatile exposure to the underlying assets and an increased exposure to counterparty risk. This may expose the fund to larger gains or losses associated with market movements or in relation to a trade counterparty being unable to meet its obligations.

Emerging Markets Risk Emerging markets, and especially frontier markets, generally carry greater political, legal, counterparty and operational risk. Investments in these markets may expose the fund to larger gains or losses.

Equity Risk The value of equity or equity related securities may be affected by stock market movements. Drivers of price fluctuations include general economic and political factors as well as industry or company specific factors.

Interest Rate Risk Changes in interest rates will usually result in the values of bond and other debt instruments moving in the opposite direction (e.g. a rise in interest rates likely leads to fall in bond prices).

Liquidity Risk Difficult market conditions could result in certain securities becoming hard to sell at a desired time and price.

Mortgage Related and Other Asset Backed Securities Risks Mortgage or asset backed securities are subject to similar risks as other fixed income securities, and may also be subject to prepayment risk and higher levels of credit and liquidity risk.
